

How to Target Audience

Warning

This is a document in progress and for strictly private circulation only. Parts of it are NOT cleared for copyright.

It is NOT to be passed on, copied or shared.

5 January 2010

Contents

Introduction.....	6
The current landscape.....	6
The Digital Migration.....	7
1 A special mindset.....	8
Informed instinct.....	9
Instinct.....	10
Informed instinct.....	11
How to inform instincts.....	11
Triangulation.....	12
Manufacturing – the raw materials.....	13
Talent.....	14
Fame and fortune.....	15
A business of contradictions.....	15
2 Why we target.....	16
Media buying.....	16
Where media buying and audience targeting meet.....	17
Data mining.....	18
3 People and their psychology.....	19
Hope and fear.....	20
Stories.....	21
Entertainment.....	22
Insight and glamour.....	22
Memory.....	24
Needs.....	24
Innovation and the Holiday Inn Syndrome.....	32
Arousal.....	34
Redundancy.....	35
4 Why do people watch TV?.....	38
Uses and gratifications.....	39
Mood management.....	41
Individuals and the mass.....	42
The case against the “couch potato”.....	43
The move towards “niche”.....	43
5 Culture.....	44
What is culture?.....	45
The elements of culture.....	46
Measuring culture.....	52
South African culture.....	54
Culture and other countries.....	57
6 Media Culture.....	58
The bad side of the media.....	58
The Cult of the Celebrity.....	60
The Cult of the Victim.....	62
The Cult of Youth.....	63
The Cult of Humiliation.....	65
Other Cults.....	66
Cultural Icons.....	66
Popular culture.....	67
Dumbing down.....	68
Television and high/low culture.....	69
Parasocial interaction.....	69
Reality Television.....	70
The importance of music.....	72
The importance of sport.....	75
7 The Business of TV.....	77
Public broadcasting.....	77
Commercial broadcasting.....	77
Pay-TV.....	78
What is the business of public TV?.....	79
Adding Value.....	79
The Value Chain.....	80
The foundations of good business.....	81
The economics of a slot.....	82
Footprint.....	83
The new environment.....	83
Key takeaways.....	86

8	86
	Acquiring content	86
	Commissioning.....	88
	Co production.....	89
	Licensing.....	89
	Barter.....	90
	Fit for Purpose.....	91
	A "Fit for Purpose" formula?.....	91
9	92
	Evaluating a buying decision	93
	Features and BENEFITS.....	93
	Benefits to audiences and broadcasters.....	94
	Analysing the brief.....	94
	Scorecards.....	96
	Rubrics.....	96
	What rubrics look like.....	96
	Designing a rubric.....	97
	Example.....	97
	A basic rule.....	98
10	98
	Scheduling strategies for television	98
	Elements.....	98
	Influences.....	100
11	102
	The Process of Scheduling	102
	The war analogy.....	102
	The showground analogy.....	104
	Forecasting for scheduling.....	104
	Ten steps for a successful strategy.....	107
	Eight basic programming principles.....	108
	Free-to-air multichannel scheduling.....	109
	Scheduling in a multicultural environment.....	111
	Multi channel terrestrial.....	112
	The evolution of pay TV scheduling.....	114
	Pay-TV programme scheduling.....	116
	A step by step process.....	117
	Step one: design a matrix.....	117
	Step two: define the target audience of the brand.....	118
	Step three: determine the type of programming the audience wants to see.....	119
	Genres.....	123
	Step four: Acquire (get) the programmes.....	125
	Step five: Make a list of social and programming trends.....	128
	Step Six: Schedule the programmes.....	128
	Step seven: Look for competitor threats.....	129
	Step Eight: Use scheduling strategies.....	130
	Step Nine: Schedule breaks.....	131
	Programme evaluation.....	132
	Working environment.....	134
12	134
	Repurposing and versioning	134
	Versioning.....	134
	Repurposing.....	137
	Repurposing for channels.....	138
	Repurposing through repeats.....	139
	Case Study: Mythbusters.....	139
13	141
	Demographics	141
	Using data.....	141
	The size of the audience.....	141
	How do we do research?.....	142
	Estimating viewers.....	143
	Viewers with TV.....	144
	How are audiences measured?.....	146
	Measuring your audience.....	147
	Limitations of data.....	149
	Entropy.....	151
	Bifurcation.....	153
14	154
	Age groups, lifestyles, lifestages etc	154
	How do you use this data?.....	155
	A new way of seeing an audience.....	157
15	159
	Segmentation	159
	TGI.....	161
	Futurefact.....	165
	SAARF.....	166

	SABC	168
	Harmonising SAARF, SABC, Futurefact and TGI	171
16	174
	Other forms of segmentation	174
	Generations model	175
	Reconciling the GEN Model to age groups	176
	Geodemographics	179
	Religion	179
	Gerentographics	180
	Comparisons between the new-age Elderly and the traditional elderly	181
	Examples of different Colour Associations	182
	Segmentation by age.....	184
	How segmentation helps	185
	Other research sources	185
17	186
	Getting to know your audience	186
	What resources are there?	187
	Age groups	189
	Do you really know the youth audience?	192
18	192
	Television and learning.....	192
	Why people want to learn	194
	Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs	194
	Learning basics	196
	Levels.....	197
	How people learn	198
	Who we educate.....	198
19	201
	Aspiration	201
	World outlook	201
	Ambitions and aspirations	202
	Cool.....	204
	Anatomy of "Cool"	204
20	206
	Targeting techniques	206
	The channel	206
21	211
	Using other media	211
	Newspapers	212
	Magazines	214
	Case Study – youth audiences, magazines	215
	Radio	220
	Internet.....	221
	Household goods	222
	Case study	222
	Suburban newspapers.....	223
	General African media data.....	224
22	225
	Using data to position map	225
23	227
	Case study Soaps.....	227
	Convergence and divergence.....	235
24	238
	Case Study – The Good Life.....	238
25	240
	Case Study: Evaluations.....	240
	Seven o'clock news on e.tv and SABC3.....	240
	Wrestling on e (8:00 pm)	241
	Shoreline	242
26	243
	Television and stereotypes	243
	Plebs and Slebs	244
	Celebrealty	245
27	246
	New Media	246
	Definition	247
	Perspective	247
	Analogue and digital	247
	What really is New Media?	249
	New Media and people.....	250
	"New Media Savvy"	251
28	251
	Interactivity and Social Media	251
	Maximising audience' emotional needs	252
	Chaos mathematics.....	253

Predictability	255
How does this help?	255
Sleepers	256
Social networks	256
Iteration	258
Social networks in a professional context	260
Broadcasters using iteration	261
The CoP process applied to social networks	261
The South African situation	264
Benefits	264
29	265
Case study: Social Media	265
The brief:	266
Appendix 1	266
Product placement and integration	266
Realistic Product Placement	269
Arranged Product Placement	269
The price of product placement	270
Appendix 2	271
Sponsorship	271
Matching viewers to the sponsor	272
A mind map	273
Creating effective sponsorship	274
Overview	275
The Question of Fit	276
Summary	278
TV sponsorship in a multi-platform world	278
The price of sponsorship	279
Appendix 3	279
Advertiser Funded Programming (AFP)	279
An introduction to AFP	279
What it is and what it isn't	279
The downside	280
How do you do it?	281
The legal bit: ensuring editorial independence	281
Summary	282
Case Study: Advertiser funded programmes	283
Appendix 4	284
Afrikaanication	284
Catching up with the youth	287
Where to from here?	288
Afrikaans magazine titles:	289
Afrikaans Newspapers:	289
Afrikaans Radio:	290
Afrikaans TV:	290
Appendix 5	290
New Media Readings	290
Appendix 6	297
Average TV Programme Global Prices	297
Appendix 7	301
Sample drama score sheet	301
Criteria	301
Scoring	301
Calculating the final score	306
Appendix 8	307
Worksheet for filling a schedule	307
Checklist for a scheduled programme	308
Worksheet for commissioning a programme	308
Checklist for shortlisting proposals	309
Worksheet for a pitching session	309
Checklist for conducting a pitch	309
Sample evaluation form (Appendix 8)	310
Checklist for licensing a programme (International Acquisition)	310
Appendix 9	311
Predicting the future	311
Is radio to blame for print's plummet?	311
Appendix 10	313
Readings on Social Networking	313
Towards a socialised state	313
Yammering away at the office	316
Global swap shops	321
Why social networks have grown so fast—and how Facebook has become so dominant	321

